

Centennial
Infant and
Child Centre
Foundation

Planned Giving Package

There are a number of ways you can give to Centennial Infant and Child Centre Foundation and make a lasting impact.

Wills

Make CICC a beneficiary in your Will and know that your legacy will live on for generations. All it takes is a simple clause in your Will. In addition, tax receipts for the full amount of your donation may offset capital gains or other taxes and lessen the financial burden on your family.

Securities

A gift of securities to CICC is one of the most financially sound ways to support our programs. When you donate stocks, mutual funds or other types of marketable securities to a charity, you pay no capital gains tax. You'll also receive a tax receipt for the full amount of the gift.

Life insurance

Gifts of life insurance are a great way to make a substantial donation for the relatively low cost of the premium payments. You can donate a policy you already own, make Centennial Infant and Child Centre Foundation the beneficiary of a joint policy held with your spouse, or buy a new policy to donate.

You and your family can feel good about helping tomorrow's children in need.

Choosing to leave a gift in your Will has significant benefits:

Tax relief

Depending on the type of asset, leaving a gift in your Will to CICCFC can significantly reduce the estate taxes.

Flexible

Your gift can be for any specific amount, percentage or residue of your estate.

Peace of mind

You can make adjustments to your Will at any time.

Cost-effective

There are no extra out-of-pocket costs. Your current income won't be affected.

Note: It's recommended that you consult a qualified professional advisor such as an accountant, lawyer, or financial advisor for support.

Leaving a gift in your Will isn't complicated when you follow these steps

1.

Call or email us!

It's a good place to start. You can tell us about your wishes, share your concerns and ask us questions. We'll guide you in the right direction. Call 416.935.1200 or email msyme@cicc.on.ca

2.

Talk to your loved ones.

This is an important discussion. Let them know your wishes and reassure them that you're not choosing between family and CICCF. In fact, your loved ones can benefit significantly.

3.

Speak to your professional advisors.

A call to the experts will get you started down the right path, with knowledgeable advice.

4.

Update your will.

Decide if you want to leave a percentage or a specific amount of your estate to CICCF, and update your Will with recommended wording from your professional advisor.

5.

Let us know your decision.

You're under no obligation, of course, but letting us know that you've chosen to leave a gift to CICCF in your Will allows us to plan how to use those additional funds most effectively.

Frequently asked questions and answers

Q: who can help me make a gift to Centennial Infant and Child Centre Foundation?

A: A lawyer, financial advisor or accountant will have the expertise to explain your options and lead you through the process

Q: Do I need to have a large estate?

A: You can specify any amount you wish in your Will, knowing that all of the funds will be used effectively. Even a small percentage of your estate can have a significant impact as a gift to Centennial Infant and Child Centre.

Q: Will my gift to CICC take away from my family?

A: When your assets are calculated, you might be surprised to find you can support both loved ones and children in need.

Include a gift in your Will to Centennial Infant and Child Centre Foundation. It might be easier than you think.

Let us help get you started.

Email: foundation@cicc.on.ca

Phone: 416.935.1200

Centennial
Infant and
Child Centre
Foundation

Charitable Number – 894082437RR0001